CENTRAL—Majorities.

Catron 33, Ancheta 49, Sparks 40, Carr 46, Christy 37, Baca 15, Laird 6, Porterfield 17, Childers 37, Helde 57, Bolich 24, Theilmann 19, Reed 43, Feagles 43, Foster 29, Taylor 27, King 30.

At the time of going to press the indications are that the democrats have elected most of the county ticket in this county. Much more than half the vote of the county has been reported and the precincts yet to hear from have been estimated in making up the result.

Twelve precincts complete in this county give the following vote:

Joseph, 446; Catron, 473; Curry, 498; Sparks, 602; Boone, 381; Carr, 534; Bell, 340; R. L. Young, 494; Christy, 594; Miles, 429; Ancheta, 517; Shannon, 522; Baca, 456; Kious, 466; Laird, 589; Edgar M. Young, 528; Porterfield, 442; Tullock, 483; Childers, 644; Newsham, 594; Helde, 534; Carvil, 492; Bolich, 658; Link, 617; Theilmann, 452; Davidson, 451; Brannin, 480; Clark, 497; Foster, 613; Taylor, 459; King, 592; Cureton, 224.

The precincts yet to hear from will give increased majorities for the democratic ticket. The election of Laird, Childers, Bolich and Foster is reasonably certain, but the remainder of the democratic candidates on the county ticket appear to be safe. The legislative ticket is in doubt. Joseph will carry this county but the territory at large has not been heard from.

General Election.

Elections were held in all the states and territories of the union except Maine, Oregon and Vermont to elect representatives and delegates to the next house of representatives. The representatives elected in Maine, Oregon and Vermont, eight in number, are all republicans.

Thirty of the forty-four states held elections to elect state officers in addition to representatives in congress. Most of these, except the states in the south, have elected republican state officers by varying majorities. New York went overwhelmingly republican and the legislature is republican by a larger majority than for some years past. It is too early to give the figures from the state but the plurality will probably be somewhere in the neighborhood of 150,000. The regular democratic nominee for governor, David B. Hill, was opposed by E. P. Wheeler, administration democratic candidate, L. P. Morton, republican, C. B. Matthews, populist, F. E. Baldwin, prohibition, and C. H. Matchett, socialist. Besides there was a strong anti-Tammany movement in New York city which took thousands of votes from Hill.

Returns from Colorado, as far as received, indicate the defeat of Waite, the populist candidate for governor, but when the returns from the mining camps and country districts come in there may be a heavier vote for the populist candidate than was expected.

Returns from most of the states are too meager to base any intelligent estimate upon as to majorities, but are full enough to indicate increased republican majorities in nearly all of the northern states.

The result in the congressional districts is not yet known, but it is not at all improbable that the democrats will have a small majority in the next house of representatives. The republicans have made gains in several of the states but whether these gains are sufficient to overcome the democratic majority in the present house is doubtful. Wilson has been beaten in West Virginia.

An altercation occurred on the upper Gila between Charley Williams and an old man named Piper over a disrespectful remark made by Piper against a lady living in that neighborhood. Upon failing to make words have the required effect, Williams struck Piper over the head with a sixshooter, but how badly the man was injured we were unable to learn up to the time of going to press.

The weather this month has been very different from that of five years ago when trains were snowbound between here and Rincon for a whole day the first week in November.

L. A. Skelly is putting in a window in the east side of the postoffice building, which is a much needed improvement for the employees, furnishing the required light.

A Shooting Scrape.

Last Saturday night several men engaged in a political discussion in Steve Uhle's saloon, when one of them named "Buck" Grubbs, a teamster who worked for Keays & Herndon, lost his temper and pulled a six-shooter with the evident intention of perforating Adolph Rosecrans' body with lead. Several men present at the time of the disturbance undertook to take Grubbs' pistol away from him, and in the scuffle which ensued the pistol was discharged, the bullet taking effect in the anatomy of the would-be bad man, passing through his wrist and lodging in the coat sleeve of his intended victim.

During his stay in this city Grubbs has borne a reputation for being quiet and attending to his own business but it appears when under the influence of liquor he was not so lamb-like in his manner. It is understood that he left town Monday morning without being apprehended.

Took a Header.

Last Monday Mrs. O. S. Warren went over to Georgetown with an insurance adjuster to adjust the loss occasioned by the recent fire there. On the road a bolt came out of one of the singletrees, allowing one of the horses to get a little ahead of the rest of the turnout. This let the tongue down and it plowed into the dirt, suddenly checking the vehicle and throwing the occupants out.

Mrs. Warren was considerably shaken up but a little thing like that doesn't interfere with her insurance business.

Ves Chase was in from the Animas Saturday. He says that although there are plenty of Indian signs in that portion of the country that none of the boys have caught sight of the beautiful features of the Apache Kid, although many of them would like to get a sight of him. They all want that five thousand promised by the governor of Arizona for his head, and if he shows up they will try to get him.—Western Liberal.

The boys at the turquoise camp out in the Burros report plenty of big game in that section. They killed a deer near camp Sunday, and although they have little time to hunt, several turkeys were also bagged a few days previous.
